(the paper that broke the story)

Sept. 24th, 1975

Mr. Weisberg,

I was able to obtain a copy of the Dallas newspaper with the Oswald destroyed letter story. It is included.

I caught the first part of the Susskind "Who Killed Kennedy" show? It wasn't bad and it wasn't good. Susskind is not too well informed on the facts. The pro Commission group included Belin, Lattimer (who claimed he and his son duplicated Oswald's alleged feat with their own copy of Oswald's rifle), and Liebler. The critics consisted of Josiah Thompson, Dr. Joeling (forensic pathologist) and Allard Lowenstein. The best part of the program was when Lowenstein blasted Belin for misstating many facts. Other than that it was arguing back and forth but nothing new. They all spoke assuming the public knew everything about the case and it is questionable if the show will educate.

Belin said he came on the Commission believing there was a conspiracy but no base was found. He spent the whole show quoting his You Are The Jury book. Lattimer spoke of how a 5 year old could duplicate Oswald's feat and said there was no reason to even think about reopening it.

Josiah Thompson came off well because he was so calm compared to Belin, Lattimer and Liebler. Lowenstein came off best — surprisingly. He knew many of the more obscure inconsistencies of the Warren Report (many that I read of in your Whitewash series). He also asked Belin about the neutron and spectographic analyses done but suppressed. He was ignored until finally Belin said what do you mean they were suppressed. Lowenstein then asked him why Mr. Weisberg had to go to court to obtain them (it sounded as if he meant you already had them but I assume that was his error. Part two is next week. It accomplishes very little but it is interesting to hear how the Commission supporters defend themselves (not well I might say). I am sure you will have the program soon if it is carried there.

That's about it, I wanted to add a line about the Russkind show. New Oswald stories continue to crop up weekly on page one of the New York Times.

Jerry still hasn't found anything more that would be helpful. He's found some things but said they were not worth copying. He will probably write you and tell you himself.

I hope the clippings are of interest.

Sincerely

Paul Bruce
